

YACCC Bench

The YACCC Bench (Young Adults Confronting Challenges Courageously) was the idea of one of the volunteers to encourage the young men to do a bit of wood work.

Planks of wood were donated from a local timber merchant, which were stuck together to form the seat and back rest. They were fixed together by our maintenance department (again) to ensure the structure was robust enough to be used properly in the garden.

The young men then chiselled out the lettering so that the tiles could be stuck in, giving a flush finish. The graffiti was added and includes all the people that attend and support the group in the day centre. It was then varnished to protect the art work and keep it weather proof. The young group wanted to have something left, when they were no longer here, maybe for their families to come and sit on.
